Speak Up	Rizzo	2nd-5th	According to Forbes, only 10% percent of American love speaking in front of a crowd, another 10% are genuinely terrified at the very thought. The other 80% of us aren't happy about having to do it and feel pretty nervous about speaking in front of others. But the valuable skill of public speaking doesn't have to be miserable! Especially, if we can make it fun and start practicing at an early age. In the class Speak Up! we will ease into public speaking through fun, interactive games, sharing in teams and working towards a short, individual presentation at the end of the semester (some homework may be required for this presentation). We will learn some of the skills necessary for an engaging speech and how it's ok to "mess up". This class will be geared towards reluctant public speakers, but that other 10% who are excited for the opportunity are welcome too!	$20.00	None	None
Speech	James	9th-12th	CORE CLASS: Speech and Debate is a rigorous one-semester introductory course that covers the major styles of public speaking and Lincoln Douglas debate. Each unit will culminate in performance assignments that require students to demonstrate their abilities within the classroom setting. Because classes are taught once a week, homework and practice will be required. Students will initially learn about and practice structured extemporaneous speeches with emphasis on verbal and nonverbal delivery skills (organization, projection, inflection, eye-contact, hand gestures, and more). Students will then build a foundation for effective argumentation by participating in "SPAR" debates while learning how to flow and argue. The class will conduct a final "tournament" at the end of the semester. This class is not accepting new students.	$35.00	Included in Fee	2 hours
